

FOLK WINS; COOK AND ALLEN PROBABLY BEATEN; ST. LOUIS IS REPUBLICAN

Definite and official returns from all the counties in the state of Missouri are not expected before Thursday morning. The delay is due to the fact that scratching of candidates has been general throughout the state.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN SAYS ROOSEVELT HAS CARRIED MISSOURI BY 25,000

Thomas K. Niedringhaus, chairman of the Republican state committee, declared this afternoon that reports received at Republican headquarters indicate President Roosevelt has carried Missouri by a plurality of not less than 25,000.

"Roosevelt has led Walbridge about 25,000 votes," said Mr. Niedringhaus, "and I feel justified in saying we are still confident that Mr. Walbridge is elected."

"The greatest Democratic defection ever known in the history of Missouri, added to the fact that the Republicans polled almost their full strength, is responsible for the result."

"Three days ago I sent out a personal letter to every Republican voter in the state, explaining conditions as they were and giving assurance that we could carry Missouri if he only turned out and did his duty."

"I am certain the legislature will be Republican on joint ballot and that we will send a Republican United States senator to Washington next January."

FOLK'S BIG PLURALITY IN CONTRAST WITH DEFEAT OF THE CITY NOMINEES.

With all the Democratic municipal candidates save one defeated by pluralities ranging from 500 to 2000, Joseph W. Folk, Democratic candidate for governor, carried St. Louis over Cyrus B. Walbridge by 1087 votes.

Mr. Folk's victory was doubly sweeping, because no other Democratic candidate for governor in the last 20 years has carried St. Louis.

National Committeeman Thomas J. Alden said: "I figure that Walbridge has carried Missouri by 25,000 votes, and that the rest of the Democratic state ticket is defeated by pluralities varying from 15,000 to 5,000."

"No such general scratching has ever been known at an election in Missouri," voters started out to rebuke the Democratic machine, and I believe they have succeeded."

Other Republican leaders figure that Cook, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, will lose by 20,000 and Auditor Allen by 12,000. Both Cook and Allen were put on the state ticket at the instance of the machine and for the purpose of embarrassing the gubernatorial nominee.

Hence, Republicans say, the tremendous Democratic stay-at-home vote.

This afternoon Judge Evans, Democratic state chairman, claims the election of Folk by 25,000 and declares that Missouri is carried for the Democratic national ticket by 10,000 to 15,000.

Judge Evans makes no claim for Cook and Allen, further than to say that he believes they will "pull through, although I believe they have failed."

St. Louis. Four years ago Dockery lost the city by 490.

The returns show that Folk was fought bitterly in the Butler stronghold.

For example, the Fifth ward, in which the power of Butler is recognized as supreme, a Democratic majority of 200 was turned into a Republican majority of 700, or a net loss of 1,000 to the Democratic party.

Cook and Zachritz Are Overwhelmed.

Butler's threat to knock the ticket from governor down, was carried into effect. Row far it affected the general result is a matter of considerable speculation among practical politicians.

President Harry B. Hays of the Jefferson Club says the Butler wards cost the Democracy 2000 votes; that if they had held their own all of the Democratic candidates, state and municipal, with the possible exception of Cook, for secretary of state, would have received safe majorities.

Next to the triumph of Folk, the most significant feature of Tuesday's contest was the defeat of William Zachritz, Republican candidate for circuit judge, who fell 1377 votes behind Judge Sale, the only Democrat elected, and the overwhelming vote polled against Secretary of State Sam B. Cook, whose public record has been fully detailed by the Post-Dispatch.

Cook, the political pet of the Democratic state machine, ran 10,877 votes behind Folk, while Swanger, Republican nominee for the same office, polled a plurality of 10,246.

Cook's vote was 2643 less than the lowest associate on the ticket, save Allen, an outlier candidate of the widespread scratching of his name throughout the city.

But the rebuke administered to Cook was not confined to any particular wards. It was general. Only 10 out of the 465 precincts failed to scratch his name. In the other 265 precincts, Cook's vote was reduced by an average of 10 to a precinct, compared with the tally for the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

Clarke and Troll

Behind Ticket.

Thomas J. Ward, Democratic candidate for sheriff, came within 1116 votes of winning over Patrick H. Clarke, the Republican choice for the office. Clarke lost heavily in the West End and South Side wards, but was saved by the Butler followers, who knifed Ward in the Fifth, Sixth, Twenty-second and Twenty-third wards.

Harvard P. Sirode, for public administrator, was defeated by his Republican opponent, Harry Troll, a representative of the Ziegelmilch machine by 518 votes.

Moses N. Sale, the only Democratic judicial nominee out of the five elected, received 14,481 votes, against 12,874 for Zachritz.

The Democrats elected two out of the three congressmen in St. Louis.

In the Tenth district, Congressman Richard Bartholdt is elected over Louis J. Tichauer, a plurality of more than 2000.

John P. Hunt defeated his Republican opponent, Henry S. Canfield, in the Eleventh by 600 votes, and Ernest E. Wood received 15,204 votes against 14,118 for Condery, the Republican candidate.

After nominating Wood, the Butlers started out to defeat him and changed sentiment considerably in the district. The lower wards particularly rallying to the "unknown" support.

Republicans Send 15 to Assembly.

Perhaps the greatest surprise to the politicians is the defeat of the Democratic candidates for the legislature in five out of six of the St. Louis representative districts.

Here again the "decision" of the voters to rid the state capital of the lobby's friends was clearly indicated.

The only legislative district saved to the Democrats is the Third, in which John O'Donnell, who made an excellent record as a legislator, led his ticket, receiving a total of 11,002 votes.

In the Sixth district Colin M. Selph, who served the interests of the lobby at the 1893 session of the legislature, fell behind his ticket, receiving only 6523 votes.

The other Democratic nominee, Ralph W. Coale, got 6647 votes.

Oliver J. Grace and William H. Godfrey, Republican candidates, received 7553 and 7811 votes, respectively.

The Thirty-first senatorial district, which went Democratic two years ago, was carried by George W. Reichmann, who got 8508 votes to 7121 for Richard J. Collins, Democratic candidate. In this district there was a big stay-at-home vote. The returns as analyzed it is apparent that Reichmann, to whose record the Post-Dispatch directed attention several days ago, was scratched by many members of his own party.

In the Fourth district the Democrats tried to overcome a heavy Republican majority, but G. H. Wilson, Albert Thompson and W. C. Marten were elected.

Amendments Did Not Meet Approval.

Wilson and Thompson have had experience as legislators and the records at Jefferson City show that they have been invariably loyal to the lobby.

Summing up the St. Louis legislative situation, the Republicans elect 12 out of 15 state representatives and two senatorial candidates, or a total of 15 on joint ballot; the Democrats three representatives and one senator, a total of four on joint ballot.

Two years ago the Democrats elected 10 out of 15 of the legislative candidates.

St. Louis voters did not take kindly to any of the five constitutional amendments submitted for the consideration of the state at large.

The proposed amendment for free textbooks received 37,840 "yes" and 35,507 "no" votes. That requiring railroad companies to grant free transportation to state officials got only 35,324 votes, as against 41,140 "noes."

Amendment 5, providing for a new capital building, failed by 10,000 votes to receive the approval of St. Louis.

Bert D. Norton Probably Elected.

The vote on the proposition for a police pension fund was 40,779 "yes" and 45,116 "noes. Amendment No. 2, providing for initiative and referendum, lost in St. Louis by 8,000 votes.

Bert D. Norton, assistant United States district attorney, who was a candidate for judge of the St. Louis court of appeals, received in St. Louis 24,000 votes more than his Democratic opponent, Judge Valie Reynburn. This judicial district, outside St. Louis, was slightly Republican two years ago, and indications are that its political complexion has not changed.

Roosevelt's plurality in the city will somewhat exceed 2000.

Judge Fisher received the highest vote of any Republican candidate, while Clarke, candidate for sheriff, ran 1802 votes behind Sager, who was elected circuit attorney by 2664 plurality.

The Republican state ticket, with the exception of Walbridge for governor, also carried the city.

John E. Swanger, Republican candidate for secretary of state, led the state Republican ticket, his vote nearly equalling that for Folk. Both led Sam B. Cook, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, by nearly 11,000.

Thomas E. Kinney (Dem.) is elected state senator from the Thirty-first district over Norman Florsheim (Rep.). The vote is: Kinney, 5967; Florsheim, 6599.

Edward Baumann (Rep.) is elected over Victor Gebhardt (Dem.). The vote is: Baumann, 5605; Gebhardt, 7121.

Folk Beats Parker Here.

Folk received 5748 more votes in St. Louis than Parker. Folk's total was 59,958; Parker's, 53,210.

Thomas L. Rubey, Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor and comparatively unknown to St. Louis voters, ran about midway between Folk and Cook. It looks as if half the men who scratched Cook scratched him, too, while the other half voted for him.

Augustus A. ("Gussie") Busch, the only millionaire on the Democratic ticket, is defeated for membership in the City Council by 2265 votes. His successful opponent, George C. Hitchcock, is a nephew of the secretary of the Interior, E. A. Hitchcock of St. Louis. Mr. Busch is a son of Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire brewer.

TO INVITE ROOSEVELT HERE

Mayor and Exposition Officials Go to Washington to Extend Invitation to Visit Fair.

Mayor Rella Wells, William H. Thompson and Corwin H. Spencer, treasurer and first vice-president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co., have gone to Washington, where they will extend a formal invitation to President Roosevelt to visit the World's Fair before its close.

The President, it is stated, often has expressed a desire to see the Exposition, but did not do so for fear his visit would be construed as a campaign tour. As the election is now over, it is believed that he will accept the invitation. Miss Alice Roosevelt and the president's sons have been to St. Louis and nearly all the members of the President's cabinet have seen the Fair.

President Roosevelt has not visited St. Louis since the dedication ceremonies of the Exposition, April 30, 1903.

NEW YORK 168,791 FOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The latest returns from New York, with some districts missing, indicate pluralities of 168,791 for Roosevelt and about 74,000 for Higgins.

Roosevelt has approximately 208,000 outside of Greater New York, while Parker's plurality in the city is less than 28,000.

The Doctor's Verdict: Death in Thirty Days

The Doctors Told Mr. Frank Kellar, of Rock Island, Ill., He Was In Last Stages of Bright's Disease and Could Not Possibly Live a Month Longer, But

Warner's Safe Cure

Completely Cured Him in Sixty Days.

Such a thing as a cure of Bright's Disease or Diabetes was practically unknown until Warner discovered his celebrated "Safe Cure" thirty-five years ago. Since then hundreds of thousands of cases have been cured and are living testimonials to the success of this wonderful medicine in curing all manner of kidney troubles.

"I was in the last stages of Bright's Disease," says Mr. Kellar, "suffering intense agony, and was bloated beyond any semblance of my former self. Doctors said they could do nothing for me, my kidneys were in terrible shape, and I'd die in a month. But on the advice of a friend I began taking Warner's Safe Cure. I felt better from the first, and am rejoiced to tell you that in two months I was completely cured, and for over a year now have had no recurrence of the trouble. My general health was never better. I owe my life to your great medicine, and in justice to my fellow beings, want every man, woman and child to know they can be healed."

11 12th St., Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 12, '04.

The subtle and treacherous nature of kidney disease is such that nine victims out of ten do not realize they are afflicted until the last stages have been reached. Drilling, grinding pains in the back, side or head; rheumatic twinges and swellings; loss of energy and appetite; sleeplessness; inflammation of the urinary organs; painful and too frequent passing of the water; female troubles; all indicate that your kidneys have been badly affected for months. If there is any doubt in your mind about your condition, pour a little morning urine in a bottle or glass and let it stand 24 hours. If a sediment forms, or it's cloudy, or contains floating particles, your kidneys are in serious shape and need immediate treatment with Warner's Safe Cure, which cures the disease, strengthens the weakened and enfeebled organs and gives new life and activity to every part of the body. Price, 50c and $1 a bottle, at all druggists, or direct.

Our doctors have successfully treated thousands of cases in all parts of the world by mail. Their advice and literature are free. Write to Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y. Correspondence is always confidential.

Only Fine Arts Building Will Be Retained on World's Fair Site.

ACCEPT BUSCH RESIGNATION

Request to Continue Exposition Denied—Executive Committee to Sell Property.

Definite plans for the restoration of Forest Park after the World's Fair are now practically complete, and immediately after the closing of the gates, Dec. 1, the work of destruction and restoration will begin.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Exposition held at the World's Fair Tuesday afternoon the executive committee reported on the plan submitted to it by the restoration committee.

This plan was approved by the entire board and was referred to the executive committee with power to act.

The plan provides for the removal of every Exposition structure with the exception of the Palace of Fine Arts. The Intramural railway will not be retained.

Architect Kessler's plan for perpetuating the most notable pieces of the World's Fair statuary did not come before the board. Likewise, the question of retaining the central basin of the lagoons as a miniature lake was not discussed.

These matters were left with the executive committee to be decided after greater deliberation.

President Francis stated to the board that the restoration committee had talked the plans over with the Board of Public Improvements and had submitted the general conclusions reached.

Architect Kessler, who was employed by the Exposition company, favors the restoration of the park to a landscape more beautiful than the original, and he will follow out the general plan of restoration to that end.

A formal presentation was made to the executive committee by many exhibitors at the Fair suggesting the continuance of the Exposition for another season. The committee thought this impracticable and unwise. The board instructed the committee to dispose of all the company's property as early as possible after the close of the Exposition.

The resignation of Adolphus Busch as director of the Exposition was accepted, and no one was selected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Busch tendered his resignation several days ago, because, as he stated, his position as a stockholder in the Tyrolean Alps was not in harmony with his position as a director of the Exposition.

A controversy between the Alps and Exposition managements, he stated, led to the resignation.

HIS KINGLY FEET OFFENDED POLICE

"King of Bohemia" Released After Tearing Down and Stamping on Poster He Didn't Like.

Frank Matoushek, uncrowned "King of Bohemia," as far as South St. Louis is concerned, was dismissed in City Hall police court, Wednesday morning, on payment of costs in the case wherein he was charged with disturbing the peace of the public in general at the polling place at 1800 South Thirtieth street, Tuesday.

Matoushek, who is a power in his ward as well as in the larger affairs of his section of the city, owns the building in which the polling place was located. The testimony in police court showed that his offense consisted chiefly in tearing from the side of the house the requesting citizens to vote for the police station amendment.

It was related that Matoushek was opposed to the amendment, and when he saw the poster he began to make unkind remarks about it and the police generally. He wound up by asking if he could post another poster advising citizens not to vote for the amendment. He was advised that he could not do so.

Whereupon the "King of Bohemia" marched with royal stride to the police poster, stuck his fingers under an unfashioned edge, and tore from the wall.

He went farther. He threw the mutilated poster upon the ground, and according to some witnesses, put his kingly feet upon it. It was too much for the police. They arrested him on the charge of disturbing the peace and took him to the South St. Louis police station. There he gave bond of $100 for his appearance in police court and was released.

PHYSICIAN'S WIFE ENDS LIFE

Mrs. Nathan Lentz Dies Soon After Being Found Unconscious by Her Son.

The coroner will hold an inquest into the death of Mrs. Rose Lentz, wife of Dr. Nathan Lentz of 1301 Carr street, who ended her life by swallowing carbolic acid in her home Tuesday, as told in late editions of Tuesday's Post-Dispatch.

Mrs. Lentz died shortly after being found almost unconscious by her son, Abraham, 13 years old, as he returned to the house from school. The boy telephoned his father, who was at his office a few doors distant, and he and Dr. M. Friedman of Fourteenth and Wash streets tried in vain to save Mrs. Lentz's life.

It was Mrs. Lentz's third attempt to end her life. Three months ago while in the office of her husband she raised a bottle of carbolic acid to her lips, but the bottle was knocked from her hands by J. S. Meliman, a friend of the family. The following day she swallowed a quantity of chloroform, but not sufficient to cause death. Mrs. Lentz had been suffering from a nervous affection to which her husband ascribes her act.

She leaves, besides her husband, three children, Abraham, aged 13 years; Samuel, aged 10, and Elizabeth, aged 15.

Three Grand Prizes

and other medals were awarded the Butterick Fashion Exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair.

The feature of the Butterick exhibit which won the Grand Prize at the St. Louis World's Fair was a series of eleven costumes, showing the styles in woman's dress during the past century—ten years apart. These have been charmingly drawn by Anna Burnham Westermann, and reproduced with tint in the form of an art panel, nearly three feet long. It is well worth framing to adorn the walls of Milady's boudoir, parlor or den, and will be mailed, rolled without creasing, on receipt of four cents, to cover postage, etc. Small outline drawings of these figures are shown in this advertisement—they give but a hint of the charm of the original drawings as shown on the panel itself.

The Delineator stands for the highest degree of excellence in the portrayal of fashions for the women of the civilized world. This same superiority is shown in its treatment of every department of home life.

The Christmas Delineator

is the best number we have ever issued—we think—and more than ever proves THE DELINEATOR to be "the best of all the magazines published for Woman."

The Love Songs from the Wagner Operas have, for the first time, been worthily put into English. Richard Le Gallienne has translated them with a charm that will make them endeared forever. The accompanying decorations in color, by J. C. Leyendecker, are superb, and well worthy of this master feature.

Other contributors to this number are: Robert Grant, F. Hopkinson Smith, Alice Brown, Elmore Elliott Peake, Mary Stewart Cutting, L. Frank Baum, the author of "The Wizard of Oz," etc., Julia Magruder, Albert Bigelow Paine, Grace McGowan Cooke, Gustav Kobbé, Lillie Hamilton French, Dr. Grace Peckham Murray, Florence Earle Coates, Aloysius Coll, Carolyn Wells, Jennie Pendleton Ewing. This issue contains superb illustrations in color and in black and white, by J. C. Leyendecker, Martin Justice, L. D'Emo, Paul J. Meylan, S. Werner, Christine S. Breddin, Herbert Paul, Harry Stacey Benton, F. Richardson, R. Emmett Owen and Harry A. Linnell.

Fashion Plates in Colors

The midwinter fashions are shown in profusion in full color and in black and white. Better this month than ever—as we promised they would be. Getting nearer to perfection with each issue—the styles shown this month are simply temptations—the best way to overcome them is to yield to them.

CHICAGO'S CHARTER IN DOUBT

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The fate of the constitutional amendment authorizing a new charter for the city of Chicago is in doubt. It received a large majority in Chicago, but apparently thousands of persons failed to vote one way or the other. In the state the vote cast was affirmative—that is, 50 per cent was negative and 50 per cent of the voters failed to do anything.

The total vote in the state for the charter amendment must, to be effective, be equal to a majority of all the votes cast in the state of presidential candidates.

OYSTER BAY VOTE REDUCED

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—President Roosevelt, whose home at Oyster Bay, is in the Fifth election district of that town, made a poorer showing in the district than McKinley did four years ago.

In 1900 McKinley carried the district by a plurality of 188. Roosevelt's plurality yesterday was 144.

At Secretary Loe's request the result in Roosevelt's home district was telegraphed direct to the White House as soon as the votes had been counted.

NO DRUNKS IN LOUISVILLE KY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—The most remarkable feature of the election in Kentucky was the almost complete absence of drunkenness. Special dispatches from all parts of the state report not one case of drunkenness or of any trouble whatever.

In Louisville not an arrest was made for drunkenness. The presidential election of 1900 resulted in 70 drunk and disorderly cases being presented in the city court. In Louisville and several murders in the state.

NATIVE TRIBES TO LEAVE FAIR SOON

Strange Peoples at World's Fair from Every Quarter of Globe Preparing for Departure.

PATAGONIANS TO STAY LATE

Fygimies Will Be Taken to Africa as Soon as Possible—Indians Packing Up.

Many of the members of the different native tribes represented at the World's Fair have already started on their homeward voyages and before many days all will have departed from the World's Fair city to return to their kinsmen and tell them of the wonders of a great universal exposition.

Those who have been used to climatic conditions such as St. Louisans enjoy during the summer months have found it necessary to return to their homes before the close of the World's Fair, while those who are accustomed to cold weather will find no trouble in living very comfortably until December's winds begin to whistle around the corners of the dismantled exhibit palaces.

Almost all of the Indians have gone home and the few who are left will leave St. Louis Wednesday.

A fortnight ago two representative tribes of Canadian Indians left for Phenix, Ariz. In charge of Chief Blue Bird, who has in his party a man and a woman interpreter, the former of the Pina and the latter of the Maricopa tribe.

The Cocopa Indians from northwestern Mexico have been sent home in three groups, the first two of which were rather singular in their make-up and the reason for their home-going.

One day last August "Showki," a great warrior of the Cocopas, got into mischief. When the matter was taken up by the Indian board it was decided that it was up to "Showki" to go back home and turn over a new leaf, so he and his guard comprised the first group.

Some weeks later the squaw of Chief Pablo Colorado of the Cocopas was taken very ill with some malady which seemed incurable to the doctors at the Indian reservation. It was feared that she would live to be taken back to her home, but the trip was attempted, with C. E. Hulbert and half a dozen Cocopas in the party.

It was discovered that she began to improve as the journey progressed, and before the party reached its destination the malady was pronounced unaccountable.

The last group left St. Louis ten days ago in charge of Mrs. Flynn, a half-breed Cocopa.

The representatives of the Aino and Patagonian tribes are accustomed to such weather as St. Louis is likely to have during December, and it is not expected that they will be taken home until the Fair closes. In the absence of Prof. Starr, who brought the Ainos to St. Louis, Anagaki, a leader in the Japanese Episcopal mission work, will conduct the natives safely home, and Vicente Cane, a Patagonian chief, will doubtless lead his people on their return trip.

The Fygimies are out of place here at this time, and as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made they will be taken home by a route confined as closely as possible to tropical waters.

HARVEY LOGAN HAS ESCAPED

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo., Nov. 8.—Sheriff Fenton of Big Horn County and posse have returned from the chase after Harvey Logan and his gang of Cody bank robbers and reports that Logan, by the boldest piece of daring, outwitted the officers and made his escape out of the country last Sunday and is now well out of the state.

Logan, disguised as a prospector, with an old back mule, loaded with tools and provisions, tramped out of the Hole-in-the-Wall country past two houses and made his way to Casper, where he took a train.

The balance of the gang split up, two disappearing completely and two more doubling back in the mountains two miles from Thermopolis. The latter are well known to the officers and their capture will be effected in a few days. One of these men was with Logan in the descent on the bank.

WYOMING WOMEN FOR ROOSEVELT

Six Out of Every Ten of the Fair Sex Voted for the Rough Rider.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHEYENNE, Nov. 8.—Woman suffrage had much to do with yesterday's election in Wyoming, for not only were the women voters out and going early, but they worked during the day in assisting their sisters in getting to the polls.

Not only was the success of several candidates due to the feminine voter, but Roosevelt's plurality was swelled very materially by the fair sex. Then, too, several candidates whose records are not any too clean would have been elected but for the women vote.

It is estimated that six out of every ten votes cast by the women went to Roosevelt. Certain needed reforms advocated by the women, who have for months discussed the subject in their club meetings, received the united support of the women, and undoubtedly the campaign in this state has been much cleaner and better men have been elected to office than would have been the case were the women deprived of the right to vote.

The committee furnished carriages to get the people to the polls, but as a rule the conveyances were not used. The women generally walked. To do away with the practice of using carriages is one of the reforms advocated by the women, and they will seek to have the legislature enact a law covering the subject.

At all the voting places women were employed as clerks and judges with the men, and their presence, together with the women workers, undoubtedly had a splendid moral effect upon the conduct of the election. There were no drunken and boisterous scenes.

SEIZED IN FOREIGN BUILDING.

Point of Diplomatic Privilege May Be Raised at Geylon Pavilion.

A point of diplomatic privilege may be raised over the seizure at the Geylon pavilion at the World's Fair of the $5000 gold and silver casket owned by V. L. Tissera, a native Cinghese merchant.

The casket was seized Monday afternoon by Constable John McMillan on an attachment for $42.50, alleged to be due on an accident insurance policy. Tissera declares that he did not apply for policy, did not receive a policy, and that he refused to pay the premium when a demand was made. He said he received a letter from the accident insurance company notifying him that a policy had been left at the Lindell Hotel for him, but he says it never was delivered to him. He has retained an attorney and will fight the case.

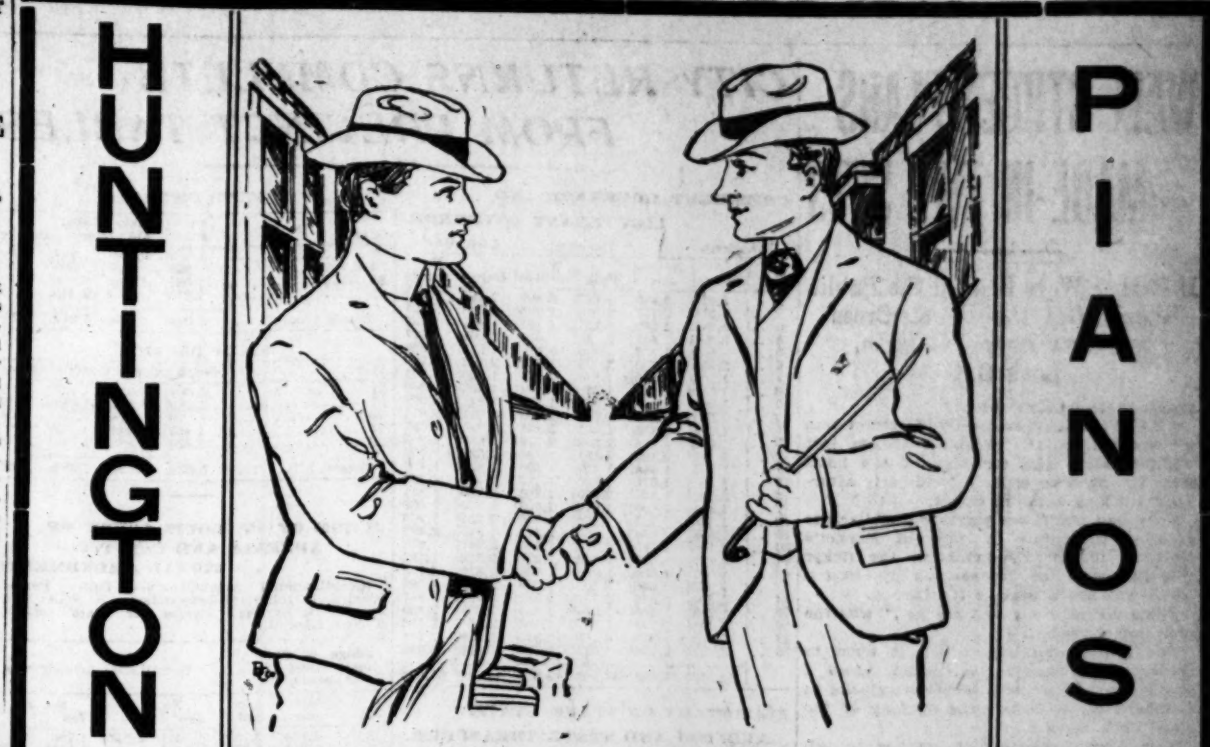

Tissera is a native Cinghese and is a naturalized citizen of the United States.

The casket was presented to Tissera by his countrymen upon his return to the island in 1900. He is a resident of Chicago, where he has lived since 1902.

The fact that the casket was in the Geylon pavilion, the property of a foreign government who seized, may raise an international question.

WALL STREET PLANS MADE IN TWO SETS

If Parker Were Elected the Public Would Get the Double-Cross and Now Roosevelt Is In, Look Out!

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Wall street was transported to the Waldorf-Astoria last night. The corridors of the hotel were thronged by brokers from early afternoon till long after midnight.

They had planned a double-cross game on the public in case of Parker's election. From the moment the ticker told the news of Roosevelt's re-election there was not a bear in the throng.

"This means a big bull market," was the unanimous verdict.

The London market, which is open to traders here at 4 a. m., offers them a chance to buy or sell American stocks in Lombard street before the opening of the New York market.

New York brokers had planned to sell several hundred thousand shares of Parker and to buy them back here at lower prices.

Every stock exchange uptown office kept open last night to take orders for London. Additional telegraph facilities had been installed to take care of the big business expected.

Before the result was known these offices were crowded with anxious traders. Handcuffs were worn by some of the speculators, crowded round the tickers.

When the news of the Republican victory came, there was a large flutter of excitement, general handshaking and the crowds began to thin out.

Only a few lingered to place buying orders in London. Everybody adjourned to the Waldorf-Astoria, where the victory was celebrated till the early hours of the morning.

The next day was that in the office of Charles G. Gates & Co., where John W. Gates and his son dispensed hospitality to all callers.

Mr. Gates fairly beamed on his friends. He had gone "long" of the market several hundred thousand shares in anticipation of Roosevelt's election, and he was generally conceded that his profits would run into the hundreds of thousands.

Campaign Courtesies.
Chairman Cortelyou of the Republican national committee was one of the first to send President Roosevelt a telegram of congratulation. Mr. Cortelyou himself received one from Chairman Taggart of the Democratic national committee.

BAD DISORDER
In the fall of 1895 I contracted that fearful disease, Blood Poison. It gained such headway that I was compelled to resign my position and seek relief at Hot Springs.

After spending all the means I had I went to Memphis. In less than three weeks I was in a hospital, and after nine weeks of suffering I was discharged as cured. In less than a month every bone in my body seemed to be affected and felt as if they would break at the least exertion.

Again I was compelled to resign, and I returned to the hospital for a seven weeks stay. When I came out I was advised to try farming. When I first went on the farm I prevailed on the only firm who handled drugs to get me one dozen bottles of S. S. S.

At that time both of my hands were broken out with blisters and I was covered with boils and sores. In the meantime my druggist had gotten two dozen bottles of S. S. S. for me and I began to use it, and after taking the thirtieth bottle not a sore or boil was visible.

SCENES OF HORROR IN PORT ARTHUR

Bodies of the Killed Lie Unburied for Days, Ravaged by Wild Dogs.

GOLDEN HILL FORTS SILENT.

Town Is Always on Fire and the Ammunition for the Guns Is Exhausted.

CHIEFOOD, Nov. 2, 12:30 p. m.—Japanese continue to bombard Port Arthur and the shells are falling so incessantly that the Russians have practically abandoned the repair of the works protecting the harbor. Citizens volunteers and the police are now reinforcing the garrisons of the forts, according to the stories of Chinese arriving here, 60 of whom left Port Arthur on Nov. 3, owing to the high price of food.

So many men were killed on both sides during the last assault that many bodies lay unburied for days, and in some instances dogs which had been driven from the town assuaged their hunger by eating the dead.

In a few cases where this was seen the horror-stricken Russian sharpshooters killed the dogs.

Some months ago the Russian authorities ordered that all dogs seen on the streets should be shot, with the result that half-famished creatures have been roaming the hills, becoming savage.

The Chinese say that the forts on Golden Hill have done practically no firing for months past, and it is believed their ammunition has run short.

The demolition of the Chinese new town is almost completed, thousands of houses having been destroyed for the valuable firewood they contained.

The town is constantly catching fire, and the majority of the warehouses and stores belonging to foreigners have been burned to the ground.

REV. DR. SWALLOW PRAYED AND SLEPT BULLETS WATCHED BY EAGER CROWDS

Election Returns Last Night Did Not Disturb Peace of the Prohibition Candidate.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 2.—Dr. Silas E. Swallow, prohibitionist candidate for President, when asked where he would receive the election returns, answered:

"At my home, if living the morning after election. I propose to go to bed at 9 o'clock tonight, after saying my prayers, and sleep in the consciousness that I have done my best for the overthrow of the iniquitous liquor traffic, and I leave the result with Him who holds the stars in His hands."

"Yes, I will be satisfied with the returns whether our vote be large or small. Let those who worry who are responsible for the existence of the liquor traffic—that is, the church voters who vote to perpetuate it by voting for the parties that favor it."

"If your vote is small will you give up the fight?"

"Well, not if the prohibitionists know themselves. They have continued the fight against all odds for over thirty years. Other minor parties have come and gone, but ours 'goes on forever.' The liquor traffic did not come in by prayers, and it won't go out that way. God did not put it here, and it is an insult to ask Him to take it away, unless we have first done what we can to rid the country of it, and the place to do it is at the polls."

"No, I am not predicting the result of the day's work. It hinges on the amount of money the two liquor parties had to buy with in the pivotal states, and the devilish wisdom they have displayed in paying it out. A defeated candidate is of as little consequence as a victorious candidate, but a defeated conscience is the deadliest of all dead things. We are not responsible for what our government does, but we are responsible for what we asked our government to do when we deposited our ballots today."

"Will you ever be a candidate again?"

"Not till I am asked and not then if I believe some other can get more votes than I can."

Post-Dispatch Service Furnished
Rapid and Accurate Election
Information to Thousands.

FOLK'S PICTURE CHEERED.

Interest in Gubernatorial Contest
Overshadowed National Returns
—Weather Bird Popular.

The incomparable bulletin service of the Post-Dispatch, through which thousands gained their first information of the trend of the election returns, demonstrated that St. Louis was more interested in the outcome of the gubernatorial struggle than in the issue of the national battle.

Bulletins which told of the vote cast for the presidential nominees even in the pivotal states evoked scant enthusiasm, while those announcing the vote for governor were eagerly read and loudly cheered.

The early bulletins left little doubt that Roosevelt had been re-elected, and these were soon confirmed by others announcing that the Democratic leaders conceded his election.

After that the presidential bulletins scarcely provoked a shout.

Although the early bulletins were equally as conclusive and confirmative of anticipations relative to the governorship, interest did not wane.

When the first important bulletin, touching the governorship, was flashed on the screen at 7:45 o'clock, conveying to the crowd in the street that in the Third precinct of the Fourth ward Folk has received 322 votes to the 17 of Walbridge, there was a deafening cheer. Instead of waning, the enthusiasm increased with each succeeding bulletin that tended to show Folk's victory.

As the minutes passed the crowd grew and the enthusiasm kept pace. The cheering increased as each bulletin favorable to Folk was shown and it was only exceeded by that which the familiar features of the boodler-prosecutor were thrown on the screen, as they ere at frequent intervals.

The crowd, which at first managed to find standing room in the block between Olive and Pine streets gradually extended to the two adjoining blocks. Distance was no drawback to the full enjoyment of the service because the type-written stereoscopic bulletins could be read almost as far as the illuminated screen could be seen.

The screen was suspended over the center of Broadway in such a way that it could be seen as well from one direction as from the other. Each bulletin was first thrown so that the crowd on one side of the screen could read it and then reversed for the benefit of the crowd on the other side.

A feature of the service was an artistic series of portraits of the national, state and city candidates of both parties. They were far and away superior to any portraits ever before thrown on a screen in connection with an election.

The funny Post-Dispatch weather bird was there, in irrepressible mood. He hopped out on the screen every couple of minutes with something to say to the crowd appropriate to the occasion. Being a bird it was natural for him to twit the losers, but his fund of solacing philosophy was inexhaustible and he kept everybody in wholesome good humor. The bird was the only one who came anywhere near sharing the honors with Folk.

The Post-Dispatch has always provided a bulletin service better than any other St. Louis newspaper, but it fairly outdid itself last night. There were no tire-some waits between bulletins and what with the fine portraits and the sallies of the bird the great crowd was entertained thoroughly as well as informed reliably. The people seemed never to tire of watching the screen and it was close to midnight before the interested audience began to dwindle.

MISS WARING FATALLY HURT

Well Known Society Woman Injured With Others in an Automobile Accident.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Miss Mae Waring, a well-known society woman of Plainfield, N. J., has been fatally injured in an automobile accident. Louis Waring and A. G. Waring, her brothers, and Mrs. Waring, wife of the latter, were severely cut and bruised. The chauffeur also was badly shaken up. The car carrying the party was a large one and while running at high speed a tire exploded.

Swerving from the road the machine lashed into a telegraph pole and overturned. The occupants were hurled in all directions and Miss Waring received internal injuries, which, it is feared, will cause her death.

NOW FOR BUSINESS.
With the close of the political campaign comes the resolution to "push business." The first steps will be more advertising. Business announcements in the Post-Dispatch classified columns are a necessity for business men.

Here 76 Years Ago.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Mitchell, 76 years old, a life-long resident of St. Louis, who died Sunday night of a complication of diseases incident to her advanced age, was conducted Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Alphonsus' Church, 1118 North Grand avenue.

Mrs. Mitchell was born in St. Louis and spent her entire life in this city. The old home at Second and Spruce streets, in which she was born, has long since been torn away, as the residence section of the city moved westward.

Her father was one of the early traders who dared the dangers of the almost unexplored land west of the Mississippi. He settled early in St. Louis and died in 1822. His family was reared in the Catholic church, of which Mrs. Mitchell was a devout member until her death.

Mrs. Mitchell leaves one sister, Mrs. Margaret Dunn, three sons and six daughters, all living in St. Louis.

MAKES YOU IRRITABLE

Nothing more irritating than constant backache—that dull, heavy throb, which bothers you all day and prevents sound sleep at night.

Backache makes you fretful and nervous—keeps you "on edge" all the time. It carves plain lines in the face, and ruins a cheerful disposition.

Don't mistake the cause of backache. Overwork might tire your back, but should not make it ache and pain and throb. A man or woman with healthy kidneys can work hard, rest and sleep, and be ready to work hard again.

Backache is kidney ache. It tells you of an inflamed or congested condition of the kidneys, brought on by a cold, a strain on the back, or perhaps some other slight cause.

The danger is that kidney congestion never relieves itself and it so disturbs the blood-filtering processes of the kidneys that uric acid and other poisons collect in the blood.

These poisons should pass off in the urine, but instead one day that there was something wrong with my kidneys and this led me to go to Wolff-Wilson's, corner Sixth and Washington avenues, for Doan's Kidney Pills, and take a course of the treatment. After three weeks I did not feel any trace of the backache and I discontinued the medicine. Since then I have not noticed a recurrence."

Health can only be restored by restoring the kidneys to health. This can only be done with a kidney medicine.

WATCH THE URINE.
Kidney diseases are not always painful in the early stages. They frequently gain ground before the victim knows of their existence.

But an examination of the urine will always tell of the existence of any form of kidney trouble.

Allow a quantity of urine to stand in the vessel for 24 hours. If any of the following symptoms appear, the kidneys are diseased:

Brick-dust sediment; whitish, cloudy, or stringy settlements; offensive odor; high reddish color or very pale, watery appearance; oily scum on the surface.

Other urinary symptoms are too free or too scanty a flow; frequent desire to urinate; pain or stinging in passing.

It is not too late for the Eastern people to get a move on themselves toward the World's Fair. We have not seen enough of them yet.

THE INDEPENDENT VOTE.

Theodore Roosevelt dominated the national elections as thoroughly as he dominated the Republican convention. His vote leads all the rest. In several states, notably Massachusetts and Colorado, large Roosevelt pluralities are combined with the election of Democratic governors. In New York Higgins is over 100,000 behind Roosevelt. In Missouri Roosevelt leads the ticket. The basis of the tremendous Republican victories was general satisfaction with business conditions. This was supplemented by the President's personal popularity. The victory was greatly increased by the incompetence of the Democratic campaign managers, the dilatory weakness of Parker's leadership and the disaffection of the Bryan element. The combination caused the landslide.

The Post-Dispatch need only refer to its own columns to account for the slump in the Democratic vote of Missouri. No local newspaper has ever had an independent course so signally vindicated. Four candidates whom the Post-Dispatch vigorously opposed on their records as unfit, are either defeated or rebuked so conspicuously that the blunder of their nomination will not soon be forgotten. Folk, the one man whom the Post-Dispatch singled out as the representative of reform on the state Democratic ticket, has 10,000 plurality in this city over his opponent, Walbridge, whom the Post-Dispatch singled out as the candidate who ought, by reason of his record, to be voted down. Folk leads his ticket throughout the state. The Post-Dispatch opposed Cook and Allen as the representatives of the corrupt Democratic state machine, who were nominated to "plug" reform, and warned the Democrats that their nominations would handicap Folk and invite disaster. The disaster has come, and Cook and Allen are defeated. The corrupt state machine is smashed.

In the city election the Post-Dispatch singled out Judge Zachritz as the candidate who must be defeated in the interest of reform. Zachritz was defeated. The whole power of the Butler gang, which saved his fellow candidates, could not save him.

In the state and city elections the independent vote, which followed the leadership of the Post-Dispatch, was cast with rare discrimination and intelligence. The results prove the tremendous growth of political independence among the people of Missouri and demonstrate their capacity for self-government.

Thirty-four different varieties of chrysanthemum are grafted on one bush at the Fair. How many varieties of graft can be worked on a government department or a city institution?

ARRESTS BEFORE ELECTION.

The arrest of Rev. T. J. Aylward and several other citizens on the eve of the election looks too much like the employment of the machinery of the law to prevent voting.

The place to interpose a bar to these men's votes is the polling booth. Challengers in possession of the facts could there have prevented a fraud upon the ballot, and if a criminal action should be justified the day after election would be the time to issue warrants. In these cases, it is now admitted that Father Aylward is innocent of any wrongdoing and the guilt of the others is still unproved. Whether they have the right to vote is not for the prosecuting officers to determine. That must be left to the judges of election.

Arrests the day before election on such charges are, in effect, like the roadblock and campaign lies put out by irresponsible persons. It reflects no credit upon prosecuting officers when they allow themselves to be used for such purposes, and it makes no difference in what party interest the arrests are ordered.

The Post-Dispatch finds ground for rejoicing and congratulations to the voters in the sharp rebuke administered to Walbridge, Cook, Allen and Zachritz, whose records rendered them unfit for election. The independent and intelligent vote was manifest in these returns.

NO OBJECTIONABLE SHOWS.

The Board of Lady Managers and the National Commission have done well to insist that no objectionable features be permitted at the Pike and other shows connected with the World's Fair. The World's Fair management is also to be commended for acting promptly upon information that some of the shows were exceeding the bounds of propriety and decency.

The decision originally announced by the management that no objectionable shows would be permitted has, it is generally understood, been adhered to, but the aggressive Thomas J. J. was brought about the Louisiana purchase, which the nation can be proud of.

prevent outbreaks of wrongdoing. There is a tendency to transgress, with the view of attracting men of low character. This tendency should be checked.

Keep up the good work. The great Louisiana Purchase Exposition must not be allowed to fall below its high standard in these last days of its existence.

Every frank postoffice official admits that a large amount of the campaign mail was deadheaded. Uncle Sam is robbed every four years, in order that the American voter may be led to vote wrong.

RUSSIANS ARE LEARNING.

Are the Russian police learning wisdom and discretion? A thousand students of the University of St. Petersburg divided into two groups, one singing the national anthem, the other the Marseillaise. The police fearing a disturbance asked the Marseillaise singers to stop. They agreed to do so if their opponents stopped. This was done and the affair ended with a laugh.

The usual procedure is to charge the students, club them, sabre them, and if the police are mounted, ride them down. This of course raises up yet more enemies for the Czar, and more trouble is laid up for the future.

The temperance and good sense employed in this latest "riot" are signs of improvement. The Czar's government will learn that repression defeats itself and augments the force and violence of the inevitable explosion, by studying the history of such methods in other countries. And if they will turn their eyes to America they will observe the effects of freedom of assembly, good humor and good sense. Their own experiment, however, should be hushed. Let them adopt it as a rule and it will not result in evil.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

FOR A SICK CANARY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Seeing inquiry in your letter column by A. N. regarding sore throat of a canary, I would advise him to rub the bird with vaseline, and put a little sugar on it, so that he will pick it up. I had a very sick bird and this treatment cured him. Also give him a little piece of bacon occasionally. E. W.

But when she got there, the cupboard was bare
And so the poor dog got none.
But young Mother Hubbard, she went to her cupboard,
(That is, her servant went there).
For a piece of Trust-meat, for the poodle to eat
For she was a millionaire. DR. E. A. WARREN.

THE RUSSO-JAPANESE WAR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The object of dispute over which Russia and Japan are bitterly contesting, undoubtedly is worth less than the amount that will be expended by one of the nations alone before that dreadful struggle closes. Its cost cannot be estimated in dollars. Many souls will be launched into eternity, many poor mothers' hearts will be wounded and families will be diminished before the conflict ends. It is and will be a great injury to both nations. What will be gained at the end of the war? The winner will be a loser. That conflict is all in vain. It could have been settled without bloodshed, and if both nations were just and wished to effect a settlement satisfactory to both nations that is the way it would have been settled. It is not too late yet to settle it by arbitration. Nations should endeavor to put an end to that struggle and the Christian world should appeal to the supreme ruler of the universe to bring about the result. PACIFIC ADVOCATE.

SPEED OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Having recently taken up my residence in the city, I have become an interested reader of your paper, particularly the "Letters from the People" column. In answer to an inquiry I would like to ask, is he from Missouri? or has he forgotten that in this progressive age it behooves one to "do things" at a doings' quick? He has evidently grasped one idea of the officials of the fire department when he says: "The idea of the officials of the fire department seems to be to get to the fire, the faster the better. This is right." Now then, the only lives that are endangered by our fire department are those similar to our own. The department is there for the protection of the property and lives of the people, and as such it has always acquitted itself with credit. I don't think it is any danger of returning to the old stagecoach rate of travel. A. O. J. have gotten into the wrong berth. Better return to Philadelphia or Posey County. A. NEW SUBSCRIBER.

A QUESTION OF GOOD ENGLISH.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In the Post-Dispatch of Nov. 7 there is, among the Post-Dispatch answers, a statement, evidently an answer to "Frank and Tom," reading: "I do not care whether the customer buy or no." "I do not care whether the customer buy or no." The location is elliptical, as in the sentence under consideration. I do not care whether the customer buy or no. I do not care whether the customer buy or no. Supply the ellipsis and we read, "I do not care whether the customer buy or no." To be sure "whether or no" is of good long-standing, used frequently by Shakespeare and others—which does not, by no means, make it correct. Those that would speak pure, idiomatic English avoid "whether or no" and say "whether or not." H. A. WHITE.

FOUR YEARS MORE OF ROOSEVELT.

The expected has happened as to the result of the election—the unexpected as to the magnitude of the victory. The Republican party, called to power in the political and business chaos for 1896, is still riding on the flowing tide of success.

The World has never expected nor predicted a different outcome of the campaign. It has never deceived itself nor attempted to mislead its readers as to the extreme probability of Mr. Roosevelt's election. It has made its fight on principle, regardless of results. There is no connection between success and moral conviction.

Whatever chance there may have been for the Democrats was thrown away at St. Louis. A party that has been eight-tenths wrong for eight years cannot regain public confidence at once by being even eight-tenths right—particularly when on the vital question of honest money it was set right only under compulsion by its nominee. The extreme and unnecessary statement in the platform—"Protection is Robbery"—branding as criminal a policy as old as our government, hurt the Democratic candidate in the chief doubtful states, all of which are heavily interested in manufactures.

Judge Parker was seriously handicapped, too, by the national committee's choice of a chairman, concerning which the World said on July 27:

"It is a matter of disappointment and regret that a man of greater ability, better training and larger experience than Thomas Taggart could not have been found for chairman of the Democratic national committee. His choice is but another sign of the times, indicating that politics has become too much a trade or a business, rather than an adjunct of statesmanship."

Undoubtedly, too, the Democratic candidate suffered from the character and reputation of some of his most conspicuous supporters in this state.

The campaign was mismanaged from the start. Judge Parker made a mistake in remaining on the bench so long, leaving a clear field to his opponents, instead of entering at once upon that "wideawake campaign" which the World called for on July 27, when it said:

"It is high time that the managers of the party organization should wake up. There is a vast amount of work to be done if Judge Parker is to be elected. So far the politicians have done nothing since the nominations were made. All that has been accomplished since Judge Parker's history-making telegram has been done by the newspapers."

The World then warned the party leaders: "Judge Parker cannot be elected by boasting or lying, as Committee men Mack and McCarren and other politicians of their class has been doing in their loud talk that the Democratic ticket is sure to sweep the country."

It insisted that there "must be an aggressive and progressive campaign, a campaign of ideas and principles, of popular enthusiasm for a great moral cause."

In the last two weeks the campaign was raised to this level, but it was then too late. Had the work done at the end of October been begun in July, before nearly a hundred days had been wasted in merely dilatory action, the showing made would have been far more creditable, though the magnitude of the Republican triumphs shows that Democratic defeat was inevitable.

As to Mr. Roosevelt, the World does not and will not abate one jot of its opposition to all that the President has stood for most conspicuously in this campaign. But it will continue to treat him fairly as it has always done in the past—as it did, for instance, when it gave such ample recognition to his Northern Securities achievement, when it praised him for keeping the peace in Venezuela and when it defended him against the criticisms of his hospitality to Booker Washington. The World will sustain him when he is right and criticize him when he seems to it to be wrong, and will hope for the best. Perhaps the thought of the moral forces arrayed against him by independent opinion in the contest just closed, even though it was ineffectual, may have a sobering effect on his restless temperament. It certainly should.

The result of the election follows naturally from the apparent prosperity of the country, which gave to the party in power an advantage which it is never easy to overcome. Many Republicans refused to take Mr. Roosevelt seriously in his own pose as the lord of the big stick and regulator of the Western Hemisphere. They easily declined to believe that, if elected, he will continue "the same" extravagant use of the public money. They looked upon him as honest and well meaning, however headstrong and erratic, and the vote shows that the majority of the people admired him. They put aside the Cortelyou scandal with the cynical assertion that the other party was "just as bad," and held all fair in politics as in war. Their attitude and feeling may have been lamentable, but there they are.

It can truly be said of the people's choice of Mr. Roosevelt as Disraeli said of the man who married a second time, "It is a triumph of hope over experience." If President Roosevelt will be satisfied with this splendid vote of confidence, the climax of his whole career, the greatest personal triumph ever won by any President—if he will strive for four years for the place in history to which his earlier ideals and independent may yet redeem him to the wife and the true glory of the Republic. His announcement that he will run for re-election is a first firm and most significant step in the right direction.

WOMAN'S AGE AND THE BALLOT

By Nikola Greeley-Smith, Granddaughter of Horace Greeley.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

Justice has always been referred to as an even-handed. But the day when the epithet was really applied to that austere goddess is over. For, according to a local decision just rendered in Ohio, a woman may not enjoy the privilege of the ballot there, accorded her if she gives her age to the unfeeling registrar, officer who asks for it as merely "trivial." It appears that many women in voting at a local election had positively declined to be more definite about their ages and that their votes had been challenged on that account. The question was carried to the courts, which have now decided that in order to cast a ballot the feminine voter will have to tell her age.

Thus does the tyrant Man give woman the privilege of citizenship with one hand and with the other draw it away. For the decision practically nullifies the gift of the ballot. What is the disfranchisement of the negroes at the South compared with it? For it will inevitably prevent even the most zealous of petticoated politicians from any attempt to "shake the turrets of the land" in a polling booth.

The more fact that in order to vote one must confess to having attained one's majority keeps many a 40-year-old maiden from exercising that glorious privilege of citizenship. And now that women will not only have to admit that they have passed 16, but will have to specify by how much, the suffragists need contend no longer. There is a lost cause.

How many women are there who tell the truth about their age? If St. Louis were to be reduced to ashes tomorrow unless 19 were found, the inhabitants of East St. Louis would witness the greatest conflagration in the world's history.

The moment a girl puts on ankle-length dresses and turns up her braid she begins to say she is 18. When she has actually reached that goal of her desire, however, she never wants to leave it. And she seldom gets far away from it within the next twenty years.

Mrs. de Stael, to be sure, wished for "a glorious immortality of twenty-five." She might easily have enjoyed it instead of wishing for it. Many women without the hundredth part of her intellect do.

Yet why should any woman care how old she is provided she doesn't look old. Let her take care of her looks and the years will take care of themselves.

The habit of fibbing about her age seems, however, instinctive with her—and perhaps she really keeps herself young by constantly asserting that she is. Still, what is the advantage of being young nowadays? Does not the elderly strew sweep all before her. Does not the young man of to-day give homage to the fallen jowl, the pliant crow's foot, the strangled superabundant flesh of the middle-aged beauty?

And yet, though the successful charmer is more often forty than twenty, she would rather die than admit that she was old enough to vote at the last election. What to her is the empty treasury of the full dinner pail, and who cares what happens to the Philippines if she has to go up and tell a horrid man with his hat on what she will never breath to a living soul. Surely, the death knell of the suffrage movement is sounding.

STORIES ABOUT PEOPLE.

In Kansas After the War.

From the Boston Herald.
After the civil war a Boston man was stopping at the Planters House, the principal hotel of Leavenworth, Kan., and coming down to breakfast late one morning he partook of that meal with the landlord. "Well, Mr. —," said the landlord, "how do you like our western country?" "I like it very well," said the Boston man, "or would if society here were in a more settled state." "None," said the landlord, "our society is as settled as that of Boston." Just then a man named Anthony burst into the dining room and out of a back door, with a man named Jenkinson pumping lead at him at every jump, and following him out into the outbuilding in the rear of the hotel.

"How about society being as settled here as in Boston?" said the Boston man as he and the landlord crawled out from under opposite sides of the table. "I had forgotten about that Anthony Jenkinson matter," said the landlord; "but if Doc Jenkinson has caught up with Anthony that is settled by this time."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW HAVEN, Nov. 9.—Roosevelt swept the state, his plurality being estimated at almost 25,000. The entire Republican state ticket was also elected by a large plurality, not quite so large as that of Roosevelt.

The New Haven Register (Ind.) claims the state for Roosevelt by over 20,000, and for Roberts for governor by nearly as much, and the state ticket in New Haven by from 1000 to 1500.

Greenwich went Republican by about 400 majority, the candidate for state treasurer, James F. Walsh, being a resident there. It is reported that E. C. Benedict contributed $500 to the Democratic town committee, but that the money was locked in a safe, to be returned to him tomorrow, because the committee was satisfied that it would be useless to spend it, although Greenwich went Democratic last election.

Dispersing Miners Dangerous.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 9.—The officials of various coal companies in their efforts to discipline the mine workers for remaining away from work on "Mitcher" day have met considerable resistance and many threats of strike. All of the orders have consequently been revoked, except that of one firm employing 9000 men. This company suspended 100 men, and unless they are reinstated by Thursday a strike will be declared.

The Republican majority in Congress is tremendously increased. Today, in the Fifty-eighth Congress they have a majority of 31. The incomplete returns indicate a majority in the fifty-ninth which will go to 64 or higher.

In such Democratic states as Texas and North Carolina, in the latter of which Roosevelt ran ahead of his ticket, several congressional districts were nearly lost to the Democrats and one Texas and two North Carolina districts are still in doubt. In New York City Congressman Goldfogle had a narrow escape from defeat and the Republicans elected Parsons and Olcott.

Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee says that recent returns indicate that the House of Representatives will have 50 majority for the Republicans. The returns from the Western states are still very meager and he bases his calculations upon districts he believes are assured Republican.

Eugene N. Foss, the Republican tariff reformer in the Eleventh Massachusetts district, was again defeated by John A. Sullivan, (Dem.).

California sends a solid Republican delegation, retiring Bell (Dem.), and the two union labor men, Wynn and Livernash. Even "Tim" Sullivan's district in New York shows the effects of the slump. His majority was decreased by about 4000 votes. In Brooklyn the anti-pass apostle, Robert Baker, was defeated, and what is more surprising, Dr. Wilson was beaten in the Fourth.

All hopes of saving the Democratic congressional seat in Delaware were vain. They were based on the Addicks' division in the Republican party. Hiram R. Burton (Rep.) succeeded Congressman Houston (Dem.).

Ohio cast a record vote, and the Republicans claim 18 and even 19 of the state's 21 Congressmen.

James M. Robinson, who has long irritated the Republicans by holding on to a doubtful Indiana district through his popularity with the labor men, has at last been put to rout.

The Republicans claim to have defeated Chairman Babcock, the two leaders of the congressional committees. When the Republican National Committee concluded that there was no hope of carrying Maryland and declined to send campaign funds thence, the Republican nominees for congress in the various districts immediately began a scramble for themselves and let the presidential ticket go.

Church Gives Euchre Party.
A euchre and dancing party for the benefit of Notre Dame Catholic Church of Wellington, of which Rev. Father C. F. O'Leary is pastor, will be given Tuesday evening of next week at Northwest Turn and Loderkrans hall, Easton and Vandeventer. Play will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Many prizes, ranging in value from $1 to $10, will be given to the euchre players, and in the course of the evening a 1000 lot will be disposed of. Father O'Leary's parish is one of the youngest in the diocese, and the parishioners and their friends are expected to all in their power to make of the euchre and dance a success, and place Notre Dame Church in even a more independent position, as regards finances, than it now occupies. Everything will be done to make the entertainment one that will merit the patronage which is expected, and the warmest hospitality will be shown guests.

Democratic State Ticket Has Probably Won on the Tax Law Issue by 10,000 Plurality.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Roosevelt has carried this state by a large plurality, estimated at from 20,000 to 25,000. The Democrats have elected their state ticket. John J. Cornwall, the Democratic candidate for governor, believes that he has been elected by not less than 10,000 plurality.

The Democrats attacked the tax legislation enacted last August, unpopular with Democrats and Republicans alike, but the Republican candidates defended the new law on the stump and the Democrats pledged themselves to its repeal. The Republican voters voted solidly for their national ticket, but never before in West Virginia was there such a scratching of ballots as was done on the state ticket.

Fully 30,000 people were at the voting places clamoring to vote when the polls closed this evening. The large ballot and the fact that the election commissioners challenged almost every colored man was the cause. Trouble was narrowly averted in many instances. About twenty persons were arrested for violations.

Man Fined $10 After Row Following Scolding by Signs.

Isaac Dugan of 1811 O'Fallon street, was charged in Dayton Street Police Court, Wednesday, with having disturbed the peace of his deaf and dumb sister, Lizzie. He admitted that he was not as sober as he might have been when he went home, Tuesday night, and said that because he did not readily understand the sign language in which his sister began to reproach him, she seized a broom and struck him with it.

The testimony of the policeman who arrested him was that he did most of the striking, and Judge Pollard fined him $10.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—Tom Taggart is "all done up." He, like many another, is paraphrasing an old saying and wondering "What I was made national chairman for if I couldn't carry my state."

From very incomplete returns it looks as though Roosevelt will have from 75,000 to 100,000 plurality in Indiana.

Marion County, Fairbanks' home, which gave McKinley 4,000 majority, gives Roosevelt a majority of 21,000.

Democrats charge that thousands of votes were bought by the Republicans and that $20,000 was spent here. Various plans were used to defeat the Australian ballot system. One of them was a peculiar way of folding the ballot.

The hardest fight is on the legislature, which elects two United States Senators. The Republicans are claiming the legislature by 50 on joint ballot.

Republicans also claim a gale of one Congressman—Newton W. Gilbert, in the Twelfth district. The Republican committee says that James M. Robinson, Democrat, has been defeated. His plurality in 1902 was 285.

$1,000,000 CAPITAL FOR BANK.
A bank with a capitalization of $1,000,000 is to be established at or near University Heights, just outside of the western city limits of St. Louis. Edward G. Lewis, president of the Lewis Publishing Co., is holder of a large majority of the capital stock, according to the articles of incorporation filed Wednesday.

His associates are August Schaefer, Theodore S. Myer, S. J. Carlisle, S. J. Cabot, N. V. Travers, James F. Coyle, George H. Augustus, A. P. Coakley, B. B. Green, Pinkney French, Porter White, Eugene W. Thompson and Guy A. Arbomast, of St. Louis, and Edward Dickinson, of Kansas City, A. L. Thomas, of Chicago, George O. Edwards, Bridgeport, Conn., and H. L. Kramer, of Kramer, Ill. It is stated that one-half of the capital stock has been paid in.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 9.—Estimates this morning indicate a plurality of over 10,000 for Roosevelt in Colorado. The result as to congressmen and state officers is in doubt, owing to the large number of scratched ballots that have not been counted.

In 131 precincts outside of Denver Peabody received 10,008 votes and Adams 10,003, with 518 scratched ballots uncounted. The scratched ballots in the entire state are estimated at over 40,000.

Scratched ballots in Denver which have been counted run in favor of Adams in the ratio of about two to one. Thus the Democrats claim that Adams is elected governor by from 7000 to 8000 plurality, with a probability that the remainder of the Democratic state ticket is also elected.

Democratic Chairman Milton Smith will

CONSUL NEARLY LOSES VOTE

Mistake Almost Bars Judge Muench's Ballot, After Long Journey Home for Election.

Judge Hugo Muench, of St. Louis, United States consul at Plauen, Germany, came near losing his vote after crossing the Atlantic and traveling several thousand miles for the specific purpose of voting.

Judge Muench's residence is at 2117 Longfellow boulevard. When he returned recently he went to the City Hall and registered from the Fifteenth precinct of the Twelfth ward as an absentee, Nov. 2.

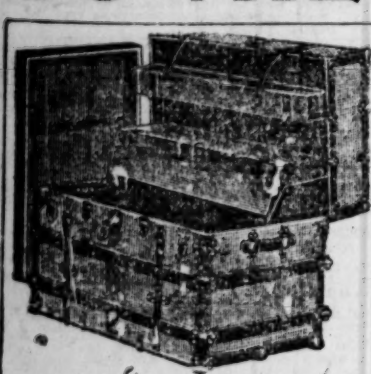

Tuesday when he called to vote at the polling place, 1727 Michigan avenue, he was told by the receiving judge that he had not registered and could not vote.

Judge Muench replied that he had registered, and as he had traveled for so great a distance to vote he was not going to give up so easily. From the polling place he went to the election commissioners' office at the City Hall. Several of the clerks remembered that he had registered, but as his name was not in the books of his ward, it was decided that it had been entered elsewhere by mistake.

Judge Muench was then furnished with a certificate authorizing him to vote, and he returned to the polling place and cast his ballot.

TIGERS HAVE FIERCE TUSSE.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—The hard-fought game of the season was held here Tuesday afternoon. The Tigers returned yesterday morning from their short vacation and each man looked to have gained in weight. The coaches had no pity on the men in the afternoon practice. Two twenty-five minute halves were played against the strongest scrub team Princeton has made up this year.

The work of the Varsity was weak in the first half, but in the second period they became more aggressive and steadily forced scrubs back until Stanford was pushed over for a touchdown. Miller's punting has improved greatly and he is expected to hold his own with the Yale punter Saturday. Betting on the Yale game opened Tuesday at 10 to 1 with Yale the favorite.

Well, it's all over and settled—now let's talk business. Overcoats, all styles, all lengths, all materials; we know your wants and have provided for them. Over $12 to $50 coat elegance.

BALLOON SCHEDULED TO MAKE ASCENSION

Postponed Attempt of Paul Knabenshue at Fair Announced for Wednesday.

With favorable weather conditions, visitors at the World's Fair Wednesday are likely to see the ascension of the Knabenshue balloon, which will carry wireless telegraph apparatus and communicate with a De Forest wireless operator at the Exposition.

The gasbag of the Francois airship has been filled with gas, the trench enabling the platform and seating to pass out of the aerodrome has been completed and everything is said to be in readiness for a flight. A trial flight is not considered probable, however, until late in the week.

The Knabenshue balloon was to have ascended Tuesday, but the wind was too high. It is in readiness to sail Wednesday. Paul Knabenshue, a brother of A. Roy Knabenshue, assistant to Aeronaut T. S. Baldwin, will be in the balloon. A wireless telegraph operator will accompany him.

Inflation of the airships of Inventor Berg and A. L. Reynolds is under way in the aerodrome concourse. As soon as sufficient gas is obtained these ships will attempt to fly.

CONSUL WILL AID RUSSIANS.
Baron Schlippenbach, Russian consul in Chicago, has arrived in St. Louis for the purpose of assisting the Russians who are under arrest charged with disturbing the peace in the Varied Industries building at the World's Fair, Saturday. The trouble was between two Russians and Jefferson Guards and arose over a cigarette, which one of the Russians was smoking.

As told in late editions of Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, the Russian consul has engaged attorneys to defend his countrymen and threatens to bring action in United States court against the guards. The cases of the two Russians will be heard in the City Hall Police Court Thursday morning by Judge Tracy.

Sent Roosevelt Congratulations When Early Figures Showed National Result.

"THANKS," SAID PRESIDENT.

Cortelyou Gets Message from His Opponent in Campaign, Chairman Taggart.

ESOPUS, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Judge Parker conceded the election of President Roosevelt at 8:30 p. m., when he received a bulletin that the Democratic national headquarters had already admitted that every doubtful state had been carried by the Republican national ticket. He appeared to be not at all downcast by the result, although it is known that he greatly deplored his overwhelming defeat in his own state.

He received the discouraging news in his study, where he sat smoking with two of his neighbors. The bulletin from Democratic headquarters concerning Judge Parker's defeat was given to the Judge by the Associated Press representative. When asked if he had any statement to make he pulled a telegraph blank toward him and wrote hastily for a moment. Then he said:

"I am going to send this telegram to President Roosevelt."

The message was dispatched at once. It was as follows:

"Rosemount, Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 8, 8:30 p. m.—The President, Washington: The people, by their votes, have emphatically approved your administration, and I congratulate you. ALTON B. PARKER."

At that hour returns were indefinite and the Judge declined to make an extended statement. He said his telegram to the President conveyed everything about the situation that he knew. The result was evident, even though details were lacking. The demeanor of Judge Parker as he heard the bulletin read was of cheerful resignation. He wore the air of one who could say if he would: "I will die game," and die he did. He discussed the returns with his friends, and compared the figures with former years. It might have been some other man's defeat for all the concern he seemed to feel. Around Judge Parker throughout the evening were the members of his family and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Freer and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis B. Long of Esopus. The bulletins were carried from the telegraph office by messengers were read by Secretary McCausland.

NEW YORK PAPERS ON THE RESULTS

Comments of the Metropolitan Press in Explanation of the Landslide.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The following are editorial opinions that are expressed this morning by leading New York dailies on the result of the election.

THE TIMES.

Mr. Roosevelt's Great Victory.

Prosperity, a deep and widespread desire for its continuance, and a feeling perhaps not less widespread that the Democratic party is not yet "fit to govern," are reasons which sufficiently explain the very remarkable results of the election held yesterday in this country. The result is a victory that is not so much Republican as it is personal to Mr. Roosevelt, the victor more sweeping and remarkable even than that of Mr. McKinley in 1896, and comparable rather to that of Grant over Greeley in 1872.

The discussions of the campaign, the search after issues, and the talk about them, the moral arguments, and the appeal to prudence and safety, have been utterly wasted. The result was predetermined. In the first place, the remembrance of what the Democratic party did in 1896 and the doubts for much. It would have been almost a political miracle had the people restored that party to conduct and to power so soon after the Bryan campaign. Probably there was a considerable number of Democrats in whose minds Judge Parker's gold standard telegram could not efface the exceedingly unfavorable impression made by the discords and unsatisfactory compromises of the St. Louis convention.

THE HERALD.

The contest is ended; the people have decided; Mr. Roosevelt is elected, and under the Jeffersonian injunction of "absolute acquiescence in the decision of the majority," the vital principle of republicanism, the American people will cheerfully accept the decision. We may expect no end to expert analysis and theories to explain the result. It was, however, due to causes that lie near the surface and which have been fully discussed. In our country, a lingering distrust of certain elements in the Democratic party, the failure of its leaders to unite in forcing an issue on the vital question, and above all, to the presence of the invincible General Prosperity fighting on the Republican side.

The sweeping character of the verdict should impress Mr. Roosevelt with a new sense of responsibility and dispose him to greater caution and prudence in the administration of the high office with which he has now been intrusted by the voluntary suffrages of his fellow-citizens. If you are wise, Mr. Roosevelt, now that you have been elected for a term of four years by the people, you will have mercy upon them and no longer crowd your meretricious notions down their throats. This is a democracy—a "government of the people, by the people, for the people," and not a government by the executive, a one-man power.

THE TRIBUNE.

Roosevelt and Fairbanks have secured at least 34 out of 48 electoral votes, carrying every state outside the "Solid South," except possibly Maryland and Nevada, and stupendous popular majorities which in several instances make even the McKinley figures of four years ago look small. The result of yesterday's election is an overwhelming and unimpeachable verdict of approval for Republican principles and for the acts of the Roosevelt administration; there can no longer be a doubt of what we have constantly believed and declared, that the Democratic candidate for President was doomed to a crushing defeat from the moment that the American people clearly comprehended the treacherous devices by which his nomination was secured and declared the crafty dictator of expediency in the manifesto which purported to be a sublime revelation.

The people of the United States love moral courage. A general recognition of that quality has made more than one great campaign, and has caused public respect for defeated candidates to survive the service of their ambition, but the people are quick to distinguish between the real and the sham.
